The seminars will explain:

- ❖ New Parts L1A & L1B - Conservation of Fuel and Power
- ❖ The Code for Sustainable Homes – A free copy will be available
- ❖ New SAP 2005 including Target Carbon Emission Rate (TER) and the Dwelling Carbon Emission Rate (DER) – Live demonstration of SAP 2005
- ❖ Air Pressure Testing
- ❖ The Domestic Heating Compliance Guide
- ❖ Renewable Energy and Micro-generation options

These follow on from a series of well received seminars held last year, which had some very positive feed-back:

- ✍ Very well presented, good content based on complexity of subjects.
- ✍ The best of it's type I have attended, hitting the key issues in an understandable format.
- ✍ Clarified new part L enormously, today's presentation closed the loop.
- ✍ Easy to use web-site, with good information and links, very concise speakers who know their subject.
